

MAOFP MSUCOM Student Physician of the Year

The Michigan Association of Osteopathic Family Physicians (MAOFP) requests nominations annually for our prestigious award that recognizes the outstanding MSUCOM Student Physician of the Year, a graduating student who has demonstrated exceptional commitment to osteopathic family medicine during medical school. Nominees for this award should be graduating in 2022, a member in good standing of MAOFP and exemplify the highest qualities of dedication to the osteopathic profession, to patients, and to the community through professional and public service as a student. Scholarship and leadership activities will also be recognized.

The award recipient will be recognized at the MSUCOM Awards Ceremony. The award recipient will receive a monetary award of $250 and a certificate of recognition. The criteria for this award will be based upon the nominee's strengths in the following areas:

1. Scholarship achievement
(e.g. good academic standing; participating in research/scholarly activity; etc.)
2. Leadership qualities and community involvement during educational training
(tutoring/mentoring; volunteering for organizational and community projects, etc.)
3. Dedication to the osteopathic profession
(e.g. involvement in political action/committees, etc.)
4. Dedication to osteopathic family medicine
(e.g. ACOFP Student chapter leadership role; MAOFP leadership role)

Candidates for the MAOFP MSUCOM Student of the Year Award may be nominated by any of the following: Family Medicine Department Chairperson, preceptor; faculty member, mentor; DME or hospital administrator, physician, resident, intern, or another student.

Each candidate must submit a one-page biography, as well as a written statement(s) from each nominating person. The student may have more than one nominating individual. This information can be filled out using the attached form. A curriculum vitae must be attached as a separate document.

A letter from the Associate Dean from Student Life supporting the nomination and attesting to the student's good academic standing is also required. This letter should be provided as a separate document.

Send all nomination documents to
